PAR TRAINING PORTAL

- Evaluates fundamental academic skills including basic reading, spelling, mathematical calculation, reading comprehension, and more.
- Reading subtests combine to provide a Reading Composite Score, which provides more data to help you understand an individual's reading skills.
- Includes reliable change scores and ability-achievement discrepancies with the RIAS-2. When used together, the AAB and the RIAS-2 offer a valid and efficient way to thoroughly assess intelligence and academic achievement.
- Comprehensive Form assesses performance in the main areas of achievement as defined by the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA).
- A skills analysis offers a wealth of data with which to make interpretations and recommendations.
- Screening Form includes four subtests (letter/word reading, spelling, mathematical calculation, and written composition [optional]) in one easy-to-use response form.
- Available free white paper describes the development of the AAB Reading Comprehension subtest. Visit parinc.com/AAB_white_paper to view or download.
